

Tracking Sales Leads

Sales Discussion

Discussion

We at MW have a defined sales process. (demo request, reply, schedule, deliver, follow up, close)

What is your sales process (ex. Someone walks in)?

What does sales look like in the Countertop Fabricator space?—different segments (dealers, builders, big-box, retail, etc)

What kinds of sales activities do you do?

Why is it important to track sales activities?

How do you track your sales activities?

What's wrong with forms, folders, paper?

Sales is important to a business. Keeping good track sales activities will only help us make more money

Enhancing JobTracker with Sales Lead Tracking

Business Goals

- Execute your existing sales process more effectively
- Make more sales by being proactive and not missing follow-ups
- Continually improve your sales process by measuring what works
- Measure the effectiveness of your salespeople

Software Goals

- Create your sales lead process in JobTracker
- Create actionable views
- Create reports that measure effectiveness

Agenda

- Sales Leads Process in JobTracker
- Calendar/Sales Lead Views
- Reporting
- Set up Your Own Sales Leads Process
 - Toolkit
 - Build your own sales process in your test database
